Subject: Revised project timeline and sample files

Hi Lena,

Thanks again for the call this morning. I cleaned up the notes from our discussion about the document classifier and the first synthetic email batch.

For the initial run, I suggest we keep the categories intentionally simple: normal project correspondence versus obvious spam. That should make it easier to validate the ingestion pipeline before we add more nuanced classes.

Next steps:

- Add the three email printouts to the sample corpus.
- Keep the labels in a separate CSV file.
- Run the parser and compare the predicted class against the expected label.

Best,
Sascha
